

Increasing Student Talk Time in the Online Classroom

Are you teaching English online and seeking ways to help students improve their speaking skills?

Research shows that the key to an effective speaking lesson is to provide ample opportunities for students to actively participate, but many instructors are struggling to convert their favorite in-person speaking activities to the online format.

In this webinar, we will:

- examine the benefits of increasing student talk time (STT) in class
- explore various routines, activities, and tools that will give students a voice in their virtual classrooms

Today's Plan

Why student talk time (STT)?

Best practices

Synchronous activities

Asynchronous activities

Today's Plan

To swim, you'll need to lift one arm while pushing back with the other. At the same time, keep moving your feet up and down rapidly. It's also important to breathe between arm strokes. This will be important if you ever fall into the ocean, so your paragraph about proper swimming technique is due on Monday.

Why STT?

- Leads to greater speaking skills
- Provides chance to actively use the language
- Motivates students
- Builds community and relationships

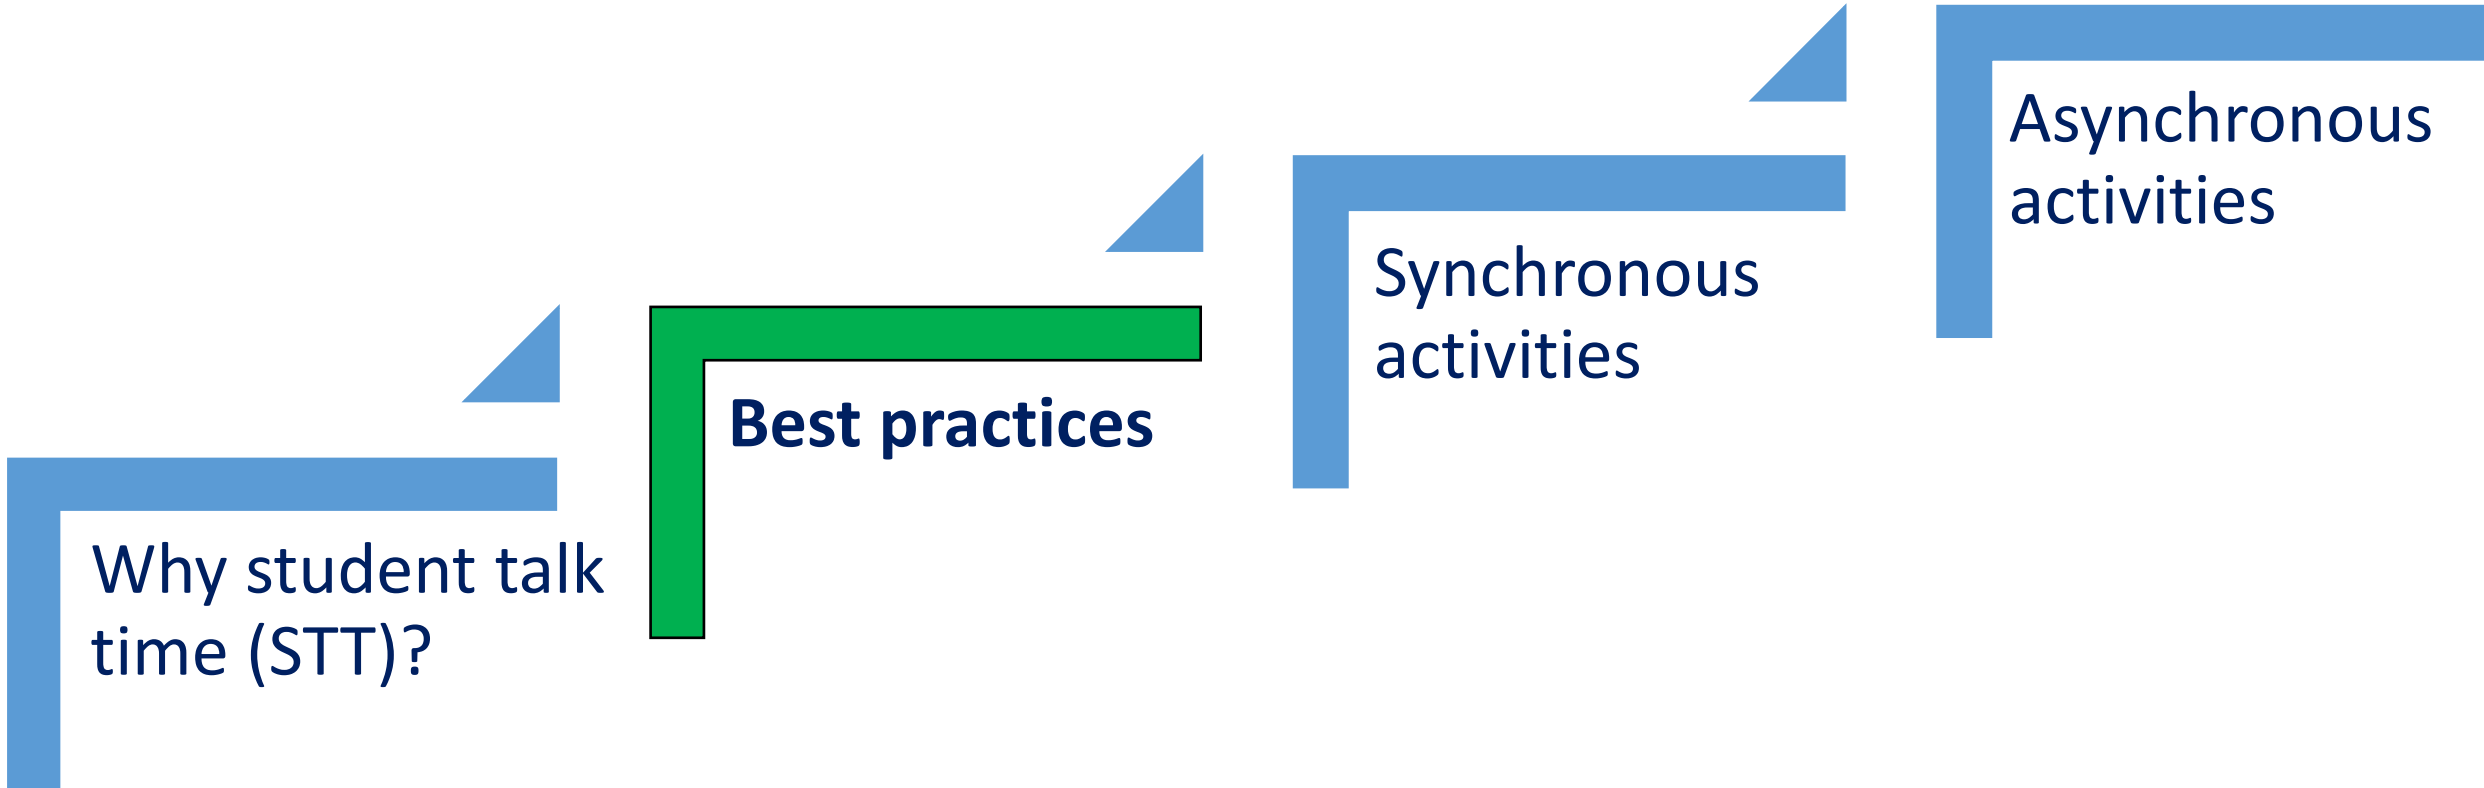

let's
DISCUSS

What challenges have you faced when trying to incorporate speaking into your online classes?

Today's Plan

Best Practice #1

Aim for at least 50% STT

Best Practice #2

Reduce Teacher Talk Time (TTT)

Best Practice #3

4 minutes each

40 seconds each

Utilize small groups

Best Practice #4

Praise

Best Practice #5

A few classroom management tools

Set up for equitable participation

Wheelofnames.com

Best Practice #6

Don't interrupt

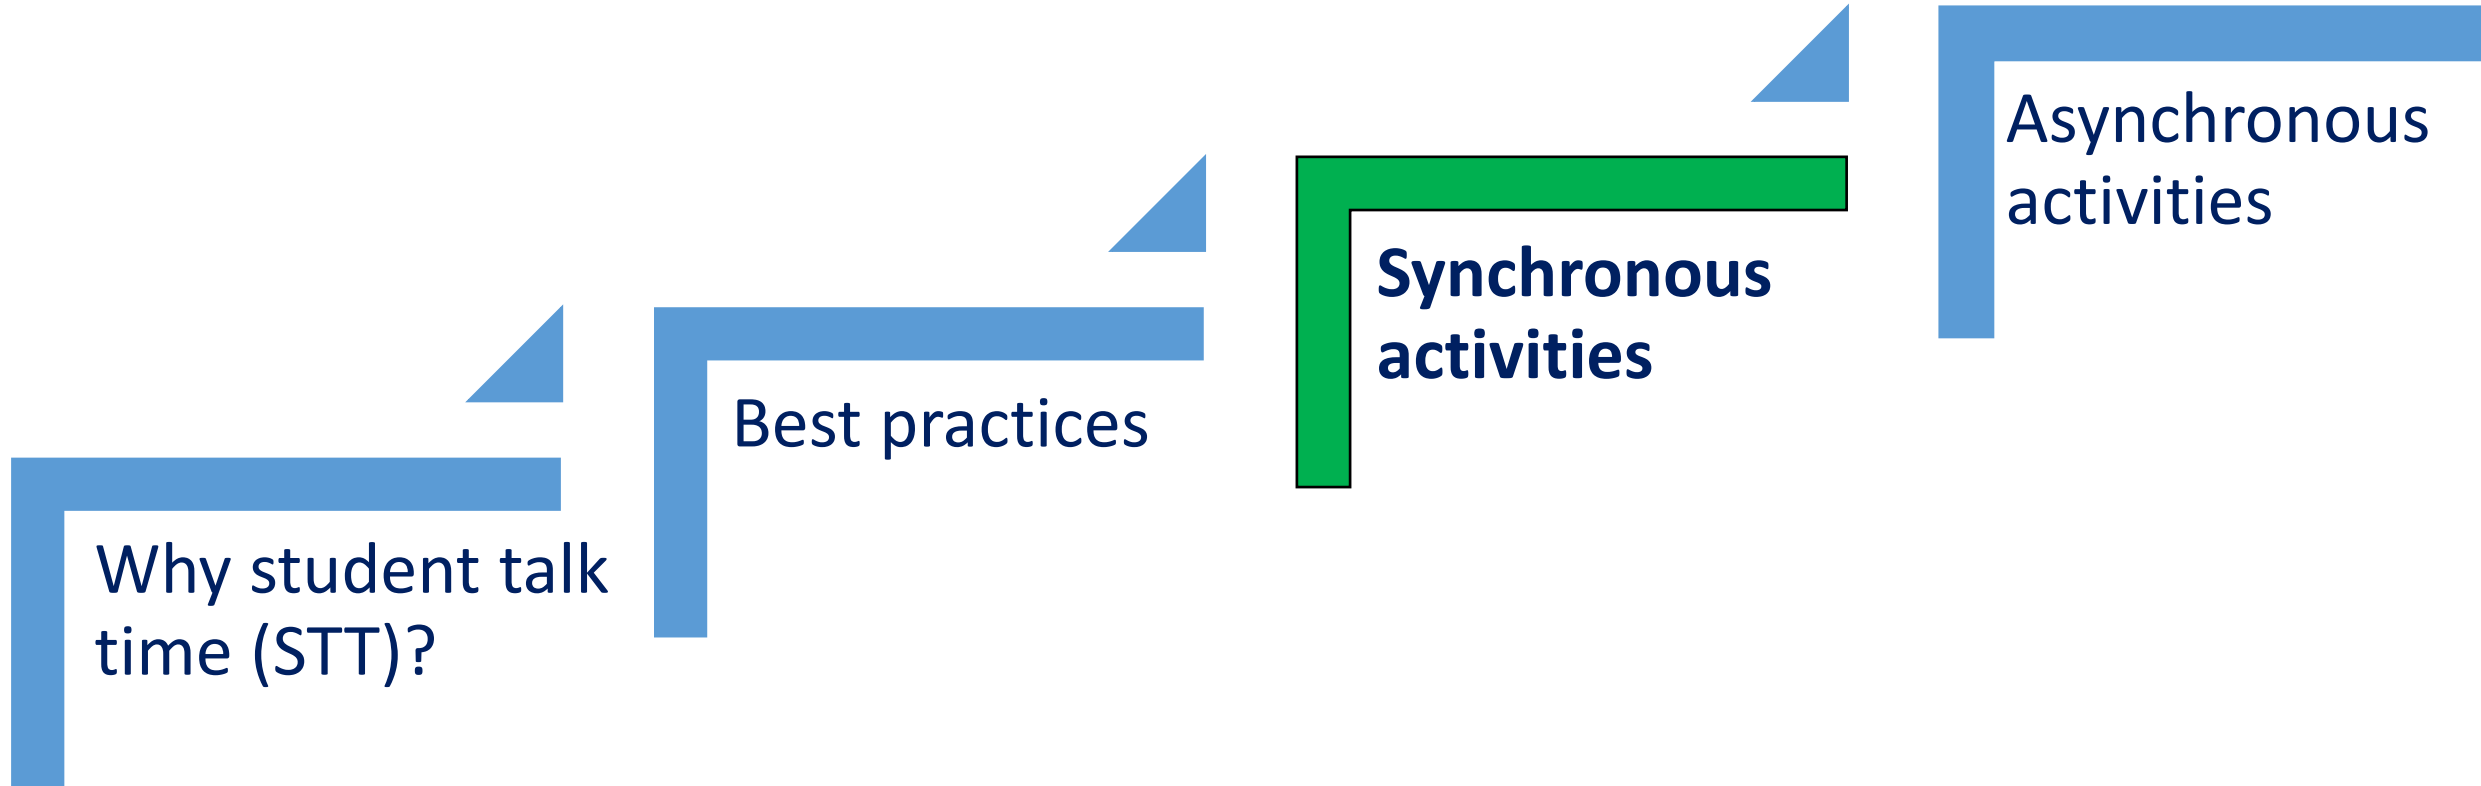

let's
DISCUSS

Which of these best practices are you already doing?
Which could you improve upon?

Today's Plan

Synchronous – Whole Class

Mystery Object

1. One person selects object related to unit of study
2. Class sets question limit
  - Assign S to keep track
3. Ss take turns asking yes/no questions until they correctly guess mystery object

Variation

- S selects object from list
- T allows any type of yes/no question

Is it...? < Yes, it is.
No, it isn't.

Does it...? < Yes, it does.
No, it doesn't.

Stand Up/Sit Down

1. Each S prepares one true and one false statement related to unit of study
2. T calls on S to say one of their statements
3. If true, students stand.
If false, students sit.

Variation

- Ss raise sign, use chat, or use annotate to show true/false

let's
DISCUSS

Scenario 1: You introduce
“Mystery Object” or “Stand
Up/Sit down” to your class, but when it’s time to participate, no one speaks.

What can you do?

let's DISCUSS

- 1) Model example
- 2) Add scaffolds: brainstorm and write possible things to say, then Ss read when called
- 3) Sing/chant together to warm up
- 4) Do movement together to warm up
- 5) Have safe classroom where mistakes are welcome and praise is given to all who try

let's
DISCUSS

Scenario 2: You introduce
“Mystery Object” or “Stand
Up/Sit Down,” and when it’s time to participate, one S does all the speaking.

What can you do?

let's
DISCUSS

- 1) Set expectations (e.g. “everyone can speak twice”)
- 2) Give silent time for Ss to prepare
- 3) Call on Ss (e.g. list, name wheel, sticks)
- 4) Ask Ss to mute until called

“Ask a Classmate” Drills

1. T provides question/answer frames and vocabulary
2. T asks S a question
3. S answers, then T instructs them to ask a classmate the next question
4. Ss continue drill until T determines

“Ask a Classmate” Drills

Do you like ____?  Yes, I do.
No, I don't.

“Ask a Classmate” Drills

Do you prefer __or __?

I prefer __.

“Ask a Classmate” Drills

Have you drunk any __ today?

Yes, I have.
No, I haven't.

let's
DISCUSS

What are other ways we can get students talking when the whole class is together?

Synchronous – Breakout Rooms

Discussion

- Reserve time for Ss to speak freely in every class
- Link discussions to content or language target
- Ask open-ended questions
- Make effective groupings (more advanced or techy Ss can provide leadership)
- Consider time (older/more advanced Ss can discuss longer)

TYPE OF DISCUSSION	EXAMPLE
Topic warm up	Good morning! Today we're going to learn about life on the International Space Station. What would be the best thing about traveling to space? What would be the worst thing?

let's
DISCUSS

How can instructors motivate students to stay on task and speak English during breakout room discussions?

let's
DISCUSS

- 1) Teacher visits groups
- 2) Time limit
- 3) Task

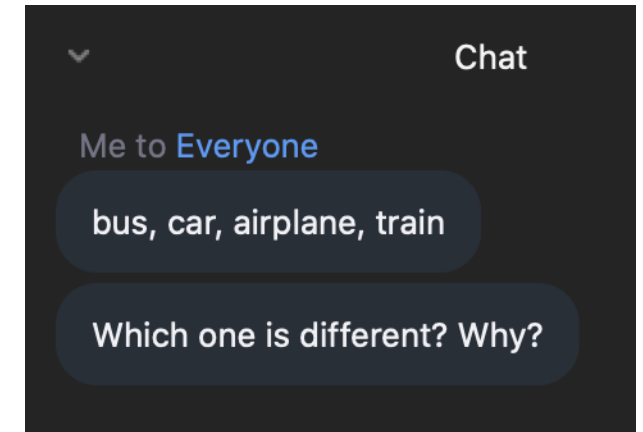

My go-to: “I’m going to pick a few students to share something their partner said.”

Games

Which is Different?

1. T models activity
2. T provides list of vocabulary words
  - Ss write words in notebook
  - T writes words in chat
  - T shares document
3. In breakout rooms Ss decide which word is different and why
  - Encourage critical thinking.
There's more than one answer!
4. Ss prepare to share reasoning

Debates

To Prepare

1. T assigns Ss to groups that share same opinion
2. Ss prepare support for their side
  - Option to flip: Ss read article or watch video before class

Breakouts for Preparation

Debates

To debate!

3. T provides language and expectations for debate

4. T makes new rooms with representative from each side
